Noted Columnist and Congressman Point Out How the Present Administration Is Undermining Security of United States

'Cy' Peterman and Congressman King Among Prominent Individuals Speaking at Rally in Edgely of "Citizens for Eisenhower and Nixon" — James Hackett and Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton Also Among Speakers.

By Staff Reporter

EDGELY, Nov. 3—(Cy) Peterman, noted columnist and author, shared the speakers' platform with Congressman Karl C. King and other well-known figures in Bucks County life at Edgely Fire Hall, Saturday night, before an overflow crowd attending the rally of "Citizens for Eisenhower and Nixon."

Peterman gave reasons, based on personal knowledge of both presidential candidates, why Eisenhower should be elected to the presidency tomorrow.

The speakers pointed out how the present administration is undermining our national security and "creating mountains of debt that will have to be paid or put on the shoulders of the younger generation."

Peterman spoke out against the policies that administered the "Bungled Billions" which created only a feeling of hatred for us on the part of the Europeans. He warned of the ominous threat of the "Point Four program" under which great numbers of "technical advisory teams go over and tell all our secrets to the Europeans."

Congressman King, candidate for re-election, spoke of the "interference of the 'almighty federal government' in affairs of business. He said that the road to success of the young people of today is blocked by "statism."

Peterman, for many years a journalist, and carrying with him a personal knowledge of both of the presidential candidates, said that it was not necessary for Eisenhower to tell "stories" as his opponent was doing. "He takes seriously his messages to the people," said Peterman.

"The re-establishment of the national prestige of the United States of America," he listed as the first job to be undertaken after the election. He spoke of the hate for America that the "Bungled Billions" had created in Europe.

Peterman, speaking to labor, said: "If Philip Murray, Walter Reuther, and William Green were really on the side of the laboring man they'd be in there pitching for Eisenhower."

He spoke of the many diplomatic problems Eisenhower had solved in Europe, both during the war and

Electronic Organ Is Dedicated at St. James'

A service of dedication for the new electronic organ, a memorial gift, took place in St. James Episcopal Church yesterday morning.

The organ is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Spring to the church. The Rev. George E. Boswell, rector, based his sermon on Revelations 14:13—"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

A bronze plaque on the side of the organ reads: "This organ, given by Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Spring, is dedicated to the glory of God and in loving memory of Louis R. Spring, Violetta Spring, Gertrude M. Spring, George Pearson Spring and Gertrude L. Spring."

The church organist, Miss Eleanor Schell, played as an offertory "Ave Maria."

A large congregation was present for the communion service.

On Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, Amos M. Heacock, organist and choirmaster at Christ Church, Riverton, N. J., will present a recital on the new organ. The public is invited to enjoy the 11 numbers which Mr. Heacock will play.

5 Hurt in 3-Car Crash

Five persons were removed to Nazareth hospital, Phila. at 11:55 p. m. Saturday as result of injuries sustained in a three-car accident at intersection of Street road and U. S. Route 1.

According to Bensalem twp. police, Samuel Gentile, 23, Reading, operating a 1936 sedan west on U. S. 1, had stopped for a traffic signal, when a 1946 sedan operated by Benjamin H. Brown, Phila., travelling in the same direction, crashed into the rear of the Gentile machine, pushing it across the highway in the path of a sedan operated by Howard Vansant, Langhorne R. D. 1.

The three vehicles were towed from the scene, with damage reported to be: Vansant machine, $275; Brown vehicle, $850; Gentile's, $150.

The following were removed to the hospital by Trevoise Heights Rescue Squad: Miss Rose Sparacino, 16, Phila., riding with Gentile, loss of memory due to shock; Arthur Grant, 27, Phila., passenger with Brown, laceration of scalp; Mrs. Grace Grant, 24, his wife, contusion of nose; Kulline White, 24, Phila., passenger with Brown, abrasions of left jaw; Benjamin Brown, 35, contusion of left shoulder.

Investigation was made by Officer William Schramm, Bensalem twp.

Predict Fair Skies for Election Day

Washington, Nov. 3—Cloudless skies over most of the nation were forecast today for tomorrow's day of decision, when the American people choose either Dwight D. Eisenhower or Adlai E. Stevenson as the next president of the United States.

A nationwide forecast of generally fair election day weather appeared to assure a record-breaking total of some 60 million votes.

Republicans hailed the forecast as a portent of victory for Gen. Eisenhower, asserting that it means a tremendous turnout in the rural areas believed to contain the hard core of the GOP standard bearer's strength.

Democrats, triumphant in the last five presidential elections, likewise saw happy omens in the promise of sunny skies, confident that Gov. Stevenson will be backed by millions of farmers who, say party leaders, "never had it so good."

Croydon, Bensalem Areas Greet Branch Bank Opening

Hundreds of Visitors See Interior of Building and Street Parade is Staged

CROYDON, Nov. 3—It was Croydon-Bensalem Day Saturday when residents of the area turned out by the hundreds to witness the opening of the area's first banking institution—the Croydon Branch of the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County. People from all sections of the two communities trekked to Bristol Pike (Route 13) and Clover avenue.

They entered the most white building and at once gave exclamations of surprise and satisfaction as they viewed the attractively tinted walls, "drive-in" depository, modern appointments and the formidable vault with its eight-ton door. One inquisitive youngster trooping into the vault after his mother and Ralph Ratcliffe, who is to be in charge of the branch, pushed the inner grating door closed. They were all on the inside looking out as Mr. Ratcliffe searched nervously through his pockets to see if he had a key. He had the key and the group breathed a sigh of relief.

The visitors were greeted by members of the Board of Directors and bank personnel and escorted through the building. Souvenir pencils were distributed.

Croydon went all-out for Croydon Day and individuals, civic groups, industrial and commercial establishments banded together in a parade. The marchers traversed the principal streets of Croydon led

AMBULANCE CASE

Charles Butler, 316 Magnolia road, was transported to Abington Hospital Saturday evening in the ambulance of Bristol Blood Donors.

Ceremony Occurs At Institution Site, Bath Road and Route 13

The Principal Speakers Are Congressman Karl C. King And Dr. Raymond Kistler.

Another epoch was written into the history of lower Bucks County yesterday afternoon when ground was broken for the proposed Lower Bucks County Hospital. The ceremonies were witnessed by an estimated 500 residents of the area, all breathing interest in the great humanitarian project. There were industrial leaders, representatives of the medical world, political leaders, labor leaders, men prominent in professional and educational circles, clergymen, and men and women from all walks of life.

The exercises were held on the hospital site, bounded by Route 13 and Bath road, opposite Silver Lake.

Cadets from Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion; the Bristol high school band, Bucks County Rescue Squad, Bristol Blood Donors, registered nurses group, and firemen played their part in the plans for the afternoon.

Seated upon the platform were members of the hospital board of directors, and men and women of prominence who have been more or less active in the hospital fund raising campaign. Charles E. Hunter, second vice president of the hospital board, officiated as master of ceremonies.

Following brief speeches, the reading of congratulatory telegrams, and messages of regret from some unable to be present, James E. Harris, president of the hospital board, turned over the first spadeful of earth, remarking "I have looked forward to this for two years."

Assisting Mr. Harris in the ground-breaking ceremony were former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy; Congressman Karl C. King, of the 8th Congressional district; F. Otto Haas, son of Dr. Otto Haas, of the Rohm & Haas Company, sponsors of the hospital project; E. Leslie Helwig, first vice president of the hospital board; George Kane, of U. A. W., representing labor; James R. Mays, hospital consultant, of James R. Mays & Associates; and Theodore B. White, of Bolton, Martin & White architects.

In the preliminaries, Chairman Hunter presented members of the hospital board of directors as follows: James E. Harris, president; William Anderson, Morrisville; Albert Bordin, of U. S. Steel Co.; Louis Dries, Paul V. Forster, Esq.; Frank Flatch, representing labor; Mrs. Reba Goebig, chairman of public relations department; E. Leslie Helwig, chairman of building committee; I. Johnston Hetherington, Sr., Burgess of Bristol; Mrs. James Hiltner, Lower Makefield twp.; Harold F. Hunter, treasurer of the hospital board; Thomas James; Alfred Lewis, president of Bristol school board; W. C. McClell, a vice-president of the hospital board; John Spadaccino, representing labor; Rene Tritschler, of the A. F. of L.; C. Burnley White, Bensalem township. Others introduced were Bucks Co. District Attorney Willard Curtin, Morrisville; Mr. Stewart, of Mercer County Hospital, Trenton, N. J.; Judge Edwin Satterthwaite, Doylestown; F. Otto Haas; Wilson Stephenson, Democratic candidate for Congress, 8th Congressional district.

Dr. Raymond Kistler, president of Beaver College, Jenkintown, was one of the principal speakers of the afternoon. Mr. Kistler spoke in an exceedingly optimistic vein, and was highly congratulatory of those who have been so indefatigable in the furtherance of the hospital project.

"I wish to extend my sincere congratulations, not only to the leaders in this project but to all who have played a part. Anything we can do in America to build community spirit, to unite groups in a community, is all to the good." The speaker spoke of the good that comes from working together for something worth-while, reminding that "people of all faiths—Jews, Protestants, Catholics—and from all walks of life—farmers, merchants, labor, capital, big and little business have done their share."

"I wonder if you can visualize what it will mean in a few months in driving by to think 'I had something to do with the building of that hospital.' Philanthropic giving is one of the basic expressions

Five persons were removed to Nazareth hospital, Phila. at 11:55 p. m. Saturday as result of injuries sustained in a three-car accident at intersection of Street road and U. S. Route 1.

According to Bensalem twp. police, Samuel Gentile, 23, Reading, operating a 1936 sedan west on U. S. 1, had stopped for a traffic signal, when a 1946 sedan operated by Benjamin H. Brown, Phila., travelling in the same direction, crashed into the rear of the Gentile machine, pushing it across the highway in the path of a sedan operated by Howard Vansant, Langhorne R. D. 1.

The three vehicles were towed from the scene, with damage reported to be: Vansant machine, $275; Brown vehicle, $850; Gentile's, $150.

The following were removed to the hospital by Trevoze Heights Rescue Squad: Miss Rose Sparacino, 16, Phila., riding with Gentile, loss of memory due to shock; Arthur Grant, 27, Phila., passenger with Brown, laceration of scalp; Mrs. Grace Grant, 24, his wife, contusion of nose; Kulline White, 24, Phila., passenger with Brown, abrasions of left jaw; Benjamin Brown, 35, contusion of left shoulder.

Investigation was made by Officer William Schramm, Bensalem twp.

Predict Fair Skies for Election Day

Washington, Nov. 3 — Cloudless skies over most of the nation were forecast today for tomorrow's day of decision, when the American people choose either Dwight D. Eisenhower or Adlai E. Stevenson as the next president of the United States.

A nationwide forecast of generally fair election day weather appeared to assure a record-breaking total of some 60 million votes. Republicans hailed the forecast as a portent of victory for Gen. Eisenhower, asserting that it means a tremendous turnout in the rural areas believed to contain the hard core of the GOP standard bearer's strength.

Democrats, triumphant in the last five presidential elections, likewise saw happy omens in the promise of sunny skies, confident that Gov. Stevenson will be backed by millions of farmers who, say party leaders, "never had it so good."

Croydon, Bensalem Areas Greet Branch Bank Opening

Hundreds of Visitors See Interior of Building and Street Parade is Staged

CROYDON, Nov. 3 — It was Croydon-Bensalem Day Saturday when residents of the area turned out by the hundreds to witness the opening of the area's first banking institution—the Croydon Branch of the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County. People from all sections of the two communities trekked to Bristol Pike (Route 13) and Clover avenue. They entered the modest white building and at once gave exclamations of surprise and satisfaction as they viewed the attractively tinted walls, "drive-in" depository, modern appointments and the formidable vault with its eight-ton door. One inquisitive youngster trooping into the vault after his mother and Ralph Ratcliffe, who is to be in charge of the branch, pushed the inner grating door closed. They were all on the inside looking out as Mr. Ratcliffe searched nervously through his pockets to see if he had a key. He had the key and the group breathed a sigh of relief.

The visitors were greeted by members of the Board of Directors and bank personnel and escorted through the building. Souvenir pencils were distributed.

Croydon went all-out for Croydon Day and individuals, civic groups, industrial and commercial establishments banded together in a parade. The marchers traversed the principal streets of Croydon led

Bucks County Attorneys Named On Committees

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 3 — W. C. Shelly, President of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, has announced the following appointments to important committees for 1952-1953 from Bucks County:

Isaac J. Van Artsdalen, Committee on Legal Biography and History; Arthur Eastburn, Jr., Committee on Legal Aid; Webster S. Achey, Committee on Civil Rights; Arthur M. Eastburn, Committee on Legal Ethics and Grievances; Arthur M. Eastburn, Jr., Committee on the Pennsylvania Plan for Selecting Judges; Arthur M. Eastburn, Committee on Uniform Commercial Code; J. Lawrence Grim, Committee on War Work.

AMBULANCE CASE

Charles Butler, 316 Magnolia road, was transported to Abington Hospital Saturday evening in the ambulance of Bristol Blood Donors.

Ceremony Occurs At Institution Site, Bath Road and Route 13

The Principal Speakers Are Congressman Karl C. King And Dr. Raymond Kistler

Another epoch was written into the history of lower Bucks County yesterday afternoon when ground was broken for the proposed Lower Bucks County Hospital. The ceremonies were witnessed by an estimated 500 residents of the area, all breathing interest in the great humanitarian project. There were industrial leaders, representatives of the medical world, political leaders, labor leaders, men prominent in professional and educational circles, clergymen, and men and women from all walks of life.

The exercises were held on the hospital site, bounded by Route 13 and Bath road, opposite Silver Lake.

Cadets from Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion; the Bristol high school band, Bucks County Rescue Squad, Bristol Blood Donors, registered nurses group, and firemen played their part in the plans for the afternoon.

Seated upon the platform were members of the hospital board of directors, and men and women of prominence who have been more or less active in the hospital fund raising campaign. Charles E. Hunter, second vice president of the hospital board, officiated as master of ceremonies.

Following brief speeches, the reading of congratulatory telegrams, and messages of regret from some unable to be present, James E. Harris, president of the hospital board, turned over the first spadeful of earth, remarking "I have looked forward to this for two years."

Assisting Mr. Harris in the ground-breaking ceremony were former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy; Congressman Karl C. King, of the 8th Congressional district; F. Otto Haas, son of Dr. Otto Haas, of the Rohm & Haas Company, sponsors of the hospital project; E. Leslie Helwig, first vice president of the hospital board; George Kane, of U. A. W., representing labor; James R. Mays, hospital consultant, of James R. Mays & Associates; and Theodore B. White, of Bolton, Martin & White architects.

In the preliminaries, Chairman Hunter presented members of the hospital board of directors as follows: James E. Harris, president; William Anderson, Morrisville; Albert Berdis, of U. S. Steel Co.; Louis Dries, Paul V. Foster, Esq.; Frank Flatch, representing labor; Mrs. Reba Goebl, chairman of public relations department; E. Leslie Helwig, chairman of building committee; J. Johnston Hetherington, Sr., Burgess of Bristol; Mrs. James Hiltner, Lower Makefield twp.; Harold F. Hunter, treasurer of the hospital board; Thomas James; Alfred Lewis, president of Bristol school board; W. C. McClell, a vice-president of the hospital board; John Spadacino, representing labor; Rene Tritschler, of the A. F. of L.; C. Burnley White, Bensalem township. Others introduced were Bucks Co. District Attorney Willard Curtin, Morrisville; Mr. Stewart, of Mercer County Hospital, Trenton, N. J.; Judge Edwin Satterthwaite, Doylestown; F. Otto Haas; Wilson Stephenson, Democratic candidate for Congress, 8th Congressional district.

Dr. Raymond Kistler, president of Beaver College, Jenkintown, was one of the principal speakers of the afternoon. Mr. Kistler spoke in an exceedingly optimistic vein, and was highly congratulatory of those who have been so indefatigable in the furtherance of the hospital project.

"I wish to extend my sincere congratulations, not only to the leaders in this project but to all who have played a part. Anything we can do in America to build community spirit, to unite groups in a community, is all to the good." The speaker spoke of the good that comes from working together for something worth-while, reminding that "people of all faiths—Jews, Protestants, Catholics—and from all walks of life—farmers, merchants, labor, capital, big and little business have done their share."

"I wonder if you can visualize what it will mean in a few months in driving by to think 'I had something to do with the building of that hospital.' Philanthropic giving is one of the basic expressions

MARINERS ARE COMING

The Keystone Mariner gave New Yorkers something to look at—in the form of cargo ships—when she steamed into the harbor the other day. First of the Mariner-class freighters to reach the port, she looked trim and graceful in her gleaming new paint.

And apparently she is as good as she looks. This 12,910-ton vessel demonstrated her speed by doing 21 knots on the run up the coast from the Chester, Pa., shipyards, where she was built. The master says she is one of the most maneuverable ships he has ever seen. And she has other features that will make her useful if war should come and put her speed and maneuverability to the test.

The Mariners are the ships that are to replace the old Liberty and Victory ships of World War II. They are meant to serve well in peace time and run away from submarines in time of war. They will carry troops as well as cargo. Changed into a transport, the Keystone Mariner will have room aboard for 3,000 fighting men. Each will have, also a launching platform for a helicopter, gun mounts, and other equipment to fight off attack.

Now they are coming off the ways, 35 floating pieces of insurance against defeat in case of war. These ships represent sacrifices Americans would greatly prefer to avoid.

The sacrifice in this case is easier to accept because the Mariners are useful in time of peace. But a considerable share of their cost must be charged off to defense—and their cost is estimated at $350,000,000.

It is predicted that if the threat of war vanishes there will be an economic depression. The last time this prediction was heard was in 1945.

World peace is a beautiful heroine in grave danger, with her would-be rescuer hanging on the ropes, but there is hope. The Great Attlee is now giving the hero advice.

According to one rumor Arthur Godfrey would become Secretary of the Navy if Eisenhower were elected President. But this would not be setting a precedent, as comedians have been in the President's cabinet before.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol June 16, 1904. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

CORNWELLS — Harry Lippincott now has three clerks.

LANGHORNE — The commencement exercises of the Manor School were held on Tuesday evening when Elsie Housled and Raymond Bye graduated. The school is ably managed by Miss Arbogast and is one of the models of the county.

There was considerable excitement in the Indian camp connected with Pawnee Bill's wild west show in Bristol last Thursday night, when Justice Goodvoice Eagle, an infant member of the tribe died of pneumonia. For two or three hours a crowd of 25 bucks and squaws took possession of Harvey S. Rue's undertaking shop, and, according to the peculiar Indian custom, kept up a weird performance, moaning and crying. An attempt was made to have the baby buried here, but the chief would not permit it, so the body was embalmed and prepared for shipment. Friday morning, Edward Quickbear left for the Rosebud Indian Agency, at Valentine, Nebraska, accompanying the corpse. The death certificate, which the board of health regulations require, was signed by Edward Spring, the "medicine man" of the tribe.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spangler entertained a number of friends at their home on Maple street, Bristol, on last Friday evening. A very pleasant time was spent and at a late hour refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. McComiskey, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore and daughter, Violet, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schmidt, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Maurice Spangler, Misses Florence Moore, Ella and Anna Rosseau, Alida Ellis, Kate McDonald, Kate Brady; Albert Lewis, Alfred Tiernan, Harvey Crowther, of Torresdale; Clifton and Louis Watt, Lizzie and Albert Roth-berger, May Spangler, Pearl Schmidt, Alida Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spangler.

NEWPORTVILLE — Joseph Desllets, the well-known mail messenger of Midway, who carries the mail to and from the trolley cars for the Newportville post-office, has been confined to his home through illness for the past week but has been relieved by his running mate, Charles Slemmer.

TULLYTOWN — The school board organized for the ensuing year on Monday night, with A. B. Shoemaker, president; W. H. Wildman, secretary; W. H. Dunk, treasurer. The tax rate was fixed at 3½ mills and the salaries of the teachers were raised to $45 per month. W. W. Beer, of Perkasio, was elected as teacher of grammar school.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bristol borough council was held in the council chamber on Monday evening. The absentees were Messrs. Dugan, Highland, Poole and Rathke.

The resignation of James A. Dugan, who had removed from the fourth ward to the third ward, was presented and accepted.

There being vacancies in the first and fourth ward delegations, the members went into an election to fill the places until the spring election. William L. Johnson was nominated to succeed Albert M. Pepper, and Martin Fallon was nominated to succeed James A. Dugan. There being no other nominations, the candidates were elected by acclamation, the clerk casting the ballots.

Upon motion of Mr. Hoeding, Frank T. Chambers was re-elected superintendent of the fire alarm system for one year at the same compensation as heretofore paid.

(Adv.)

C. C. Strumfels has placed a horse and wagon on his route and is now supplying the wholesale tobacco trade in lower Bucks county, being the only wholesale dealer in this vicinity.

LEVITTOWN

Five different cities are represented by that number of new families in Levittown. From Pittsburgh come Dr. and Mrs. Louis Szczekocki and young son, who are residing on Sweetbriar Lane; from Dayton, O., Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Margolis and daughter, to Field Lane; from Phila., Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones and two daughters, now living on Graceful Lane; from the New Jersey capital city, Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rubin and daughter have moved to Graceful Lane; and from New York, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Sokach and daughter have moved to Field Lane.

"They never had it so good!"

THE order is, "Forward march"—and off they go, feet sucking against the Korean mud, every bone crying, "I'm tired!"

The order is flop and eat—and they flop and try to eat, no matter how little they like the food.

The order is, "Take hill number 631"—and they fight forward, not ready for death, but expecting it with every splatter of bullets.

Then, in the quiet moments, one soldier will turn to another and half grin and say, "You never had it so good."

A joke—a classic Army joke—but these days it has a real bitter note to it. Because at the same time everyone is wondering and saying:

"Did it have to come to this?"

"Couldn't the shooting have been stopped before it began?"

"What's the matter with our foreign policy?"

"Why didn't the Administration see this coming?"

"Must we keep paying for their mistakes?"

"WHAT? We've never had it so good? COME INTO MY FOXHOLE AND SAY THAT!"

All right—the damage is done—and we all know what has been badly begun must be well ended.

BUT—shall we forget or forgive those who blundered? Will you? Do you DARE? Will you trust America's future foreign policy to those responsible for Korea? Is this official fumbling what you want for America? You know it isn't!

Not if you value the lives of your sons. Not if you value your own life and welfare and that of your family. Not if you value the peace and prosperity of America.

No—you will want to clean house. You will want to sweep out of power and into the ash can the Administration that brought your country to this. You will run, not walk, to the polls. You will vote eagerly, glad that you can make a change. You will

THE order is, "Forward march"—and off they go, feet sucking against the Korean mud, every bone crying, "I'm tired!"

The order is flop and eat—and they flop and try to eat, no matter how little they like the food.

The order is, "Take hill number 631"—and they fight forward, not ready for death, but expecting it with every splatter of bullets.

Then, in the quiet moments, one soldier will turn to another and half grin and say, "You never had it so good."

A joke—a classic Army joke—but these days it has a real bitter note to it. Because at the same time everyone is wondering and saying:

- "Did it have to come to this?"
- "Couldn't the shooting have been stopped before it began?"
- "What's the matter with our foreign policy?"
- "Why didn't the Administration see this coming?"

"Must we keep paying for their mistakes?"

"WHAT? We've never had it so good? COME INTO MY FOXHOLE AND SAY THAT!"

All right—the damage is done—and we all know what has been badly begun must be well ended.

BUT—shall we forget or forgive those who blundered? Will you? Do you DARE? Will you trust America's future foreign policy to those responsible for Korea? Is this official fumbling what you want for America? You know it isn't!

Not if you value the lives of your sons. Not if you value your own life and welfare and that of your family. Not if you value the peace and prosperity of America.

No—you will want to clean house. You will want to sweep out of power and into the ash can the Administration that brought your country to this. You will run, not walk, to the polls. You will vote eagerly, glad that you can make a change. You will

Bristol High Loses Despite Outplaying of Burlington Team

BURLINGTON, N. J., Nov. 3.—Bristol High outplayed, out-gained, and out-fought Burlington High in their annual "Little Brown Jug" game here, Saturday, but the Blue Devils capitalized on a 53-yard run, a penalty, and line backs to score a 6-0 verdict over the Bristolians before a large crowd.

In defeat, Bristol played its best game of the season and if any team ever won a moral victory, Bristol did against the Burlington team as it registered a total of 12 first downs to Burlington's 5. It gained 166 yards via its ground attack and 21 in the air. Burlington, including Warren Goldsby's 53-yard run, made 130 yards for its afternoon total.

Bristol's air attack was better than the winner's as it completed 3 passes, had three grounded and one intercepted. Burlington went into the air 8 times without a completion and one interception. The only department in which Burlington excelled was in the kicking of Ray Montagnolo and Joe Manzi. Both of these youngsters made high and long boots which offset some of the large gains made by the Warriors' drives.

It was the fifth straight triumph for Coach Ray Costello's team, which is unbeaten. The Burs have now won nine of the 20 Little Brown Jug games. Bristol's record is two victories and five defeats.

The only score of the tilt came in the final quarter when Burlington made its only sustained drive of the game. It started on the 20 after a Bristol kick rolled into the end zone. After a first down was clipped off, Goldsby got off on his run, the best of the afternoon. Only the best of the afternoon. Two line plays moved the ball 7 yards and a pass was grounded.

While Burlington was in the huddle, a Bristol player was detected giving signals while in a neutral zone, and the Warriors penalized five yards, giving Burlington a first down on the 10. From there, it took three plays, but Freddie Carbezzola crashed over for the touchdown. Dick VanSant's try for the conversion, a place-kick, hit the left upright and rebounded outside.

Bristol's offensive strength began to show in the first quarter. VanSant's kick-off went to Gene Dugan who was spilled on the 30. On the first play, there was a Bristol fumble and Bill Solan recovered for Burlington on the 30. Montagnolo picked up a yard and a pitch out. Matt Coccia to Goldsby, was good for eight yards. Coccia made a first down on the 20. After two line plays, Burlington went into the air but Russ Johnson intercepted Coccia's pass on the Bristol 18. Larry Cohen picked up 8 yards and David made a first on the 28. Davis on an end sweep garnered another first on the 38. Gleason and Dugan lugged the ball to mid-field. Cohen got off on another first, making 11 yards but the play was recalled and Bristol penalized five yards.

Davis was stopped. A short pass, Les Gibbs to Dave Lewis, was completed for 6 yards. Another aerial was grounded. Jack Gleason got off a poor kick which only traveled to the Burlington 45. Montagnolo made 4 yards and on the next play made a beautiful scamper to the Bristol 6-yard line but Burlington off-side and the play nullified. Goldsby's tackle slant was good for five yards but Montagnolo fumbled and Russ Johnson recovered for Bristol on its 45. Gleason made 3 yards and Cohen five. Davis made a first on Burlington's 43. Cohen, Davis and Gleason made a first down on line plays on the Blue Devils' 30 as the quarter ended.

Cohen lost a yard and Davis bulled his way for 10 yards. Gleason made another first down on the 15. Cohen skirted end for 6 and Davis made two. Davis was stopped and on fourth down there was a fumble with Burlington taking over on its 10. Montagnolo made 9 yards on two line plays. A forward pass was completed, Coccia to Jackson, to the Bristol 33 but the play was nullified by a penalty. Montagnolo got off a nice kick to his mid-field, Gleason carrying it back to the 35. Four plays saw Bristol get to the 27 before losing the ball. Burlington also failed to gain so Montagnolo again kicked, this time the ball sailing to Bristol's 38. Both teams were attempting passes towards the finish of the quarter.

Gibbs' second-half kickoff went to Newt Epps on the 10. He ran it back to his 30. Ed Conca got in and tossed Epps for a 7-yard loss after two plays failed to gain any yardage of any account. Montagnolo punted to the Bristol 35. Bristol fumbled with Jackson and Joe Skwara recovering for Burlington. After Goldsby gained 6 yards, Montagnolo fumbled with Bobby Razo recovering for the Pennsylvania team. Davis pounded the line for 8 and Cohen added another. Gleason powered his way to the Bristol 44. Three plays later, Gibbs attempted to pass and was tossed for a 15-yard loss. Fred Kornstedt kicked to the Burlington 39. Goldsby made 17 yards for a first on Bristol's 44. But the Bristol line charged well on the next three plays, throwing Burlington backs for a loss of 17 yards. Manzi kicked to the Bristol 44. Gleason came back to make a first on Burlington's 44 on two plays, as the quarter ended with the teams still at a scoreless deadlock.

Bristol failed to gain the necessary yardage so on fourth down, Kornstedt kicked, the ball going into the end zone. Corbezzola made 4 yards off tackle and added two on a spinner. Cocci hit the middle for a first on the 30. Burlington was penalized five yards after Dick Pito gained 8. Goldsby made the best run of the day, going 53 yards on a reverse, and being stopped on Bristol's 22. Corbezzola and Pitko made five yards with a grounded pass sandwiched between the plays. Bristol then received a five-yard penalty to give Burlington a first down on the Bristol 10.

Four minutes remained to be played as Epps made six on two tries. Corbezzola went over for the touchdown to make the score 6-0. VanSant missed the extra point try.

Undaunted, the Warriors came back with a determination to score. VanSant kicked to Cohen who carried it back 10 yards to the 35. Davis and Gleason made a first on the 45. Davis made a yard off tackle and Gleason, on two tries, bulled his way to the Burlington 45, another first down. After Davis was stopped, Gibbs short passed to Fred Kornstedt for 4 yards. Davis, on a reverse, went 34 yards for a first down on the Burlington 7. But on the next play, there was a fumble, with Will Hubbs getting the ball for Burlington and ruining all hopes for a stalemate or victory for Bristol.

Morrisville Receives Worst Defeat of Season

HATBORO, Nov. 3.—Morrisville High received one of its worst defeats in years, Saturday, when drubbed by Hatboro High, 45-12, on the latter's field.

Morrisville's only chance to cheer was on the opening kickoff which Tommy Trout grabbed on the 15 and raced 85 yards for the touchdown. In the second quarter, Trout's 10th touchdown of the season.

An intercepted pass by Frank Pesce paved the way for the second Morrisville score. He intercepted on the 34 and ran to the 17. Richie Neuman was good for 6 yards and then Sophomore, Nick Marrazzo went around his right end for a touchdown.

Don Lear scored three touchdowns for the Hatters, and Bob Belli, two. John Stellander and Ed Garner scored the other touchdowns. Hatboro made 14 first downs to Morrisville's six and gained 255 yards by rushing to Morrisville's 72.

as one sees fit, or save and accumulate it. Freedom of enterprise implies that people should receive goods and services approximately in proportion of the social value of the contributions which they make in productive effort. This is directly opposite to the collectivist idea "From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs."

"Let's see what is currently happening to our liberties and freedom. Let's anticipate what will happen to our liberties and freedoms if we do not vote on November 4th to change the trend."

"Under our free enterprise system business development was based largely on its efficiency in serving the public. We have big unions whose power fully matches that of the biggest business organizations. There has been a justifiable improvement in the bargaining position of labor. At present both big business and big labor, as well as small business and small labor have to fear only the possibility that big government will take over control and dictate to them and to all segments of our economic society, fixing wages, fixing prices, allocating materials, subsidizing the weak and taxing the strong."

boy with ambition could start with nothing and by hard work attain some measure of success. Today, with tremendous Federal expenses, and a tax policy which says that the entire load should be carried by those who currently earn money, the most ambitious and ingenious young fellows find the road to financial independence blocked by a giant Statism which says "Give me all you earn above bare living necessities and in your old age depend upon the State."

"Naturally, big government tries to stem the tide of inflation with controls and regulations. The usual excuse for all this excessive authority is emergency. Ever-continuing emergency is the excuse for every innovation in the way of controls, allotments, priorities, rationing and all the ways in which the Federal government is trying to master-mind our economy. But emergencies have a way of never passing, and bureaus set up to handle emergency measures seem never to finish their job. "Of course, the bureaucrats disguise every step towards this socialism as more social security. It has seemed easy to make the voter believe that government is the miraculous piteer from which continually flows something for nothing."

"Eventually, we will run up against the hard facts of economic law and find that national income is not sufficient to support this enormous overhead machine. But then it will be too late to hold our liberty."

in the setting up of the Atlantic treaty forces.

Peterman warned of the dangerous policy of "Point Four" technical assistance which was telling abroad all of the secrets of mass production techniques which had built America to the greatest power in the world.

"Advance this idea ten years," he said, "and think of what will happen when they've got all of their natural resources left and we won't have much left."

"Then suppose they get mad at us," he declared. "The motto over here is 'don't make them mad, they might not take our money,'" continued Peterman.

He called on the group to leave to the coming generation "a house in good order."

The speech of the Young Republican leader, James Hackett, emphasized that the youth of the county and of America would go to the polls tomorrow and vote for Eisenhower for president. He said it would be the vote of the young citizen that would "close the vacuum" that permitted the abuses of the present administration.

Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton asked: "What lies behind Triangle Hill?" "Triangle Hill," she said, is a strategic hill in North Korea down which a recently much publicized picture showed wounded American soldiers being carried in litters," she said.

A different sort of triangle lay behind Triangle Hill, she said. She declared the base of this triangle was formed at Yalta "when Russia was handed Manchuria," and she spoke of the railroad through Manchuria as taking supplies from Russia to the Communist forces in Korea. One side of the triangle she depicted as Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The other side she described as Owen Lattimore.

"We cannot expect Stevenson to do anything about this triangle," she said.

Eisenhower's solution to the problem, said Mrs. Hutton, would replace this triangle with what could be compared to a rectangle, the base of which is "unity." Two sides of this rectangle she described as "experience" and "loyalty," and she said the top was "leadership"—"leadership which only he (Eisenhower) is qualified to give." She held up a small American flag which she said was also rectangular in shape. The red, white, and blue, she said, stands for courage, integrity and loyalty, and she described these virtues as fitting into the picture of the rectangle which she had described. "There can be only one answer," Goldsby made the best run of the day, going 53 yards on a reverse, and being stopped on Bristol's 22. Carbezola and Pito made five yards with a grounded pass sandwiched between the plays. Bristol then received a five-yard penalty to give Burlington a first down on the Bristol 10.

Four minutes remained to be played as Epps made six on two tries. Carbezola went over for the touchdown to make the score 6-0. Van-Seiver missed the extra point try. Undaunted, the Warriors came back with a determination to score. Van-Seiver kicked to Cohen who carried it back 10 yards to the 35. Davis and Gleason made a first on the 45. Davis made a yard off tackle and Gleason, on two tries, bulled his way to the Burlington 45, another first down. After Davis was stopped, Gibbs short passed to Fred Kornstedt for 4 yards. Davis, on a reverse, went 34 yards for a first down on the Burlington 7. But on the next play, there was a fumble, with Will Hubbs getting the ball for Burlington and ruining all hopes for a stalemate or victory for Bristol.

Morrisville Receives Worst Defeat of Season

HATHBORO, Nov. 3.—Morrisville High received one of its worst defeats in years, Saturday, when drubbed by Hathboro High, 45-12, on the latter's field.

Morrisville's only chance to cheer was on the opening kickoff which Tommy Trout grabbed on the 15 and raced 85 yards for the touchdown. In the second quarter, Trout was injured and sat out the remainder of the game. It was Trout's 10th touchdown of the season.

An intercepted pass by Frank Pesce paved the way for the second Morrisville score. He intercepted on the 34 and ran to the 17. Richie Neuman was good for 6 yards and then Sophomore Nick Marrazzo went another right end for a touchdown.

Don Lear scored three touchdowns for the Hatters, and Bob Belli, two. John Stellander and Ed Garner scored the other touchdowns.

Hathboro made 14 first downs to Morrisville's six and gained 255 yards by rushing to Morrisville's 72.

NOTED ARCHITECT JOINS GUNNISON

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Nov. 3.—Gunnison Homes, Inc., United States Steel Corporation's housing subsidiary, announced today that Henry Hill, one of the nation's noted architects of homes, has joined the Company as a consultant.

Lineups: Morrisville (6): Ends: Thompson, Russell, Jackson, Paolillo, Jones.

Lower Moreland Wins Over Bensalem, 6-0

LOWER MORELAND, Nov. 3.—A pass interception by "Bill" Liss, who went 51 yards for a touchdown, gave Lower Moreland High a 6-0 triumph over Bensalem Township High here Saturday.

Liss made his pass interception in the third quarter after Bill Daley had ran 57 yards for a Bensalem score only to have the play nullified by an off-sides penalty.

Bensalem had 13 first downs to the victor's 9 and went inside the Lower Moreland 20-yard line on several occasions but could not penetrate the goal line.

Lineups: Bensalem (6): Ends: Dominant, Struble, Fox, Tackles: Bristolow, Kaiser, Vansant, Berger. Guards: Vickers, Bencardine, Fox, Scott, Heaney. Backs: Schurr, Crowthers, Daly, Harak, Parker, Welsh, Arnold, Walker, Christianson.

Lower Moreland (6): Ends: Bothur, Allmond. Tackles: Schaffer, E. Liss, King, White. Guards: Kane, A. Worthington, Cooper. Centers: Johnson, B. Liss, Backs: Atkinson, Black, Hearing, R. Worthington, Segant, Spoler, Fradkin, Palmer. Score by periods: 0 0 0 6-6. Lower Moreland 6 0 0 0-6. Bensalem 0 0 0 0-0. Officials: Referee, Jaffin; umpire, Coleman; head linesman, Terry.

as one sees fit, or save and accumulate it. Freedom of enterprise implies that people should receive goods and services approximately in proportion of the social value of the contributions which they make in productive effort. This is directly opposite to the collectivist idea "From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs."

"Let's see what is currently happening to our liberties and freedom. Let's anticipate what will happen to our liberties and freedoms if we do not vote on November 4th to change the trend."

"Under our free enterprise system business development was based largely on its efficiency in serving the public. We have big unions whose power fully matches that of the biggest business organizations. There has been a justifiable improvement in the bargaining position of labor. At present both big business and big labor, as well as small business and small labor have to fear only the possibility that big government will take over control and dictate to them and to all segments of our economic society, fixing wages, fixing prices, allotting materials, subsidizing the weak and taxing the strong."

"Thirty years ago any ordinary boy with ambition could start with nothing and by hard work attain some measure of success. Today, with tremendous Federal expenses, and a tax policy which says that the entire load should be carried by those who currently earn money, the most ambitious and ingenious young fellows find the road to financial independence blocked by a giant Statism which says 'Give me all you earn above bare living necessities and in your old age depend upon the State'.

"Naturally, big government tries to stem the tide of inflation with controls and regulations. The usual excuse for all this excessive authority is emergency. Ever-continuing emergency is the excuse for every innovation in the way of controls, allotments, priorities, rationing and all the ways in which the Federal government is trying to master-mind our economy. But emergencies have a way of never passing, and bureau sets up to handle emergency measures seem never to finish their job."

"Of course, the bureaucrats disguise every step towards this socialism as more social security. It has seemed easy to make the voter believe that government is the miraculous pitcher from which continually flows something for nothing."

"Eventually, we will run up against the hard facts of economic law and find that national income is not sufficient to support this enormous overhead machine. But then it will be too late to hold our liberty."

in the setting up of the Atlantic treaty forces. Peterman warned of the dangerous policy of "Point Four" technical assistance which was telling abroad all of the secrets of mass production techniques which had built America to the greatest power in the world.

"Advance this idea ten years," he said, "and think of what will happen when they've got all of their natural resources left and we won't have much left."

"Then suppose they get mad at us," he declared. "The motto over here is 'don't make them mad, they might not take our money,'" continued Peterman.

He called on the group to leave to the coming generation "a house in good order."

The speech of the Young Republican leader, James Hackett, emphasized that the youth of the county and of America would go to the polls tomorrow and vote for Eisenhower for president. He said it would be the vote of the young citizen that would "close the vacuum" that permitted the abuses of the present administration.

Mrs. Ann Hawkes Huttig asked: "What lies behind Triangle Hill?" "Triangle Hill," she said, is a strategic hill in North Korea down which a recently much publicized picture showed wounded American soldiers being carried in litters." A different sort of triangle lay behind Triangle Hill, she said.

She declared the base of this triangle was formed at Yalta "when Russia was handed Manchuria," and she spoke of the railroad through Manchuria as taking supplies from Russia to the Communist forces in Korea. One side of the triangle she depicted as Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The other side she described as Owen Lattimore.

"We cannot expect Stevenson to do anything about this triangle," she said.

Eisenhower's solution to the problem, said Mrs. Hutton, would replace this triangle with what could be compared to a rectangle, the base of which is "unity." Two sides of this rectangle she described as "experience" and "loyalty," and she said the top was "leadership"—"leadership which only he (Eisenhower) is qualified to give."

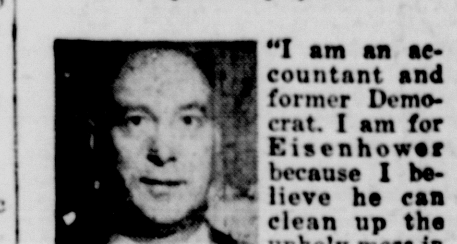

She held up a small American flag which she said was also rectangular in shape. The red, white, and blue, she said, stands for courage, integrity and loyalty, and she described these virtues as fitting into the picture of the rectangle which she had described.

"There can be only one answer,"

WHY I'M VOTING FOR IKE

J. RICHARD KINTER
Bryn Athyn, Pa.

"I am an accountant and former Democrat. I am for Eisenhower because I believe he can clean up the unholy mess in Washington. I believe in his fairness, honesty and sincerity. He will not tolerate income tax scandals, milk coats, five-percenters, etc. Eisenhower will change our foreign policy from dollar diplomacy to what is best for the United States. He will fight inflation by getting the government to live within its means. He will be fair to labor, agriculture and management."

Airman Rittenhouse

The ankle-length veil edged in wide Chantilly lace was the one worn by her mother on Mrs. Vandegrift's wedding day. This was attached to a shell type headpiece of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Slippers were of satin, and the cascade bouquet composed of white roses and gardenias.

The group of attendants for the bride was inclusive of: Matron of honor, Mrs. Ann Hollingsworth, Cornwells Heights, costumed in American beauty tone; bridesmaids—Miss Elizabeth A. Rossbauer, Torresdale Manor, in gold; Miss Virginia Leinauer, Eddington, in forest green; Mrs. Samuel Morrison, Jr., Eddington, in shrimp tone; Mrs. Russell Matthews, Jr., Andalusia, in peacock blue; junior bridesmaid, Sandra Vandegrift, Bristol Terrace II, cousin of the bride, wearing aqua; and flower girl, Cheryl Hughes, Cornwells Heights, in aqua also. The gowns of the six were strapless, the satin bodies having "cuffs" at the top and also where the bodices were joined to the skirts. Tiny buttons were arranged down the front of the bodices, which were pointed at the long waist-lines. Skirts were not over taffeta, being cut full and floor length. The young women wore net stoles. The matron of honor wore an open-crown picture hat of net trimmed in satin; the bridesmaids and junior bridesmaid had crowns of pleated net and satin, all excepting the junior bridesmaid wearing face veils. All wore silver slippers. The flower girl had a small net bonnet, satin trimmed, a large net bow tied under her chin. Each of the group carried a basket in natural color, these containing mixed fall blooms contrasting with the shades of their gowns.

Airman Rittenhouse was attended by Mr. Richard Fleming, Croydon, as best man. Serving in the capacity of ushers were Messrs. Samuel Morrison, Jr., Eddington; Walter Grumman, Hatboro; Stanley

Vandegrift, Bristol Terrace II, cousin of the bride; and Joseph Hogan, Phila., a cousin of the bridegroom. The ring bearer, Joseph Vandegrift, Bristol Terrace II, another cousin of the bride, wore a tuxedo, and the two wedding rings were carried on a white pillow.

Mrs. Vandegrift, the mother of the bride, was attired in a brown taffeta costume, beige accessories, and had a corsage of deep yellow roses. Mrs. Rittenhouse, the bridegroom's mother, selected an ice blue gown, navy blue accessories, and pink roses for a corsage.

Invitations were issued to 300 for the reception in the Rose-Mar Ballroom, Phila., starting at five o'clock.

A motor trip to Lake Placid, Lake George and Niagara Falls, N. Y., was arranged by the newlyweds, the bride travelling in a beige wool fannel suit, white nylon blouse, brown accessories, and white gloves. She wore an orchid. Mrs. Rittenhouse will continue to reside with her parents while her husband is in the service. She is a graduate, class of 1949, Bensalem township high school, and is employed by Hajo Corp., Phila. Her husband is an alumnus of Bristol high school (class of '46).

by former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Farmers National Bank; Louis C. Spring, president, and Jacob C. Schmidt, vice-president. The trio rode in a bright red convertible Buick, the color of which, despite its brightness, failed to top the brightness of countenances and joyfulness of pride, of those who by their expressions and exuberance said "today our community takes its place with other progressive areas in booming Lower Bucks County."

Crowds lined the streets as the parade passed. Hands waved in salute to those responsible for the new branch bank. Refreshments were dispensed at the rear of the building and it was a big day for all concerned.

Bristol Township police escorted the parade over the route. A car labeled "This affair sponsored by Bristol Township Civic Association," followed, and then bank officials in a car, a truck with James Harris waving to the crowds and advertising the ground-breaking ceremonies for Lower Bucks County Hospital; a float of banking equipment with John Catzin garbed as a bank clerk wearing a frock coat, flowing black mustache, and sitting on a high stool making ledger entries with a quill pen. Catzin is former assistant cashier of the Hanover Bank of Wilkes-Barre, and is now of the Farmers Bank staff.

The Croydon String Band, group of equestrians, Croydon Fire Company, Bucks County Rescue Squad, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, all had a place in line. There was an attractive float with students of the Coyne Dancing Studio in costumes Omar Motors, Bracken Post Cadets trucks of Safe Food Markets L. & S. Hobby Shop, William A. Tryon, Philco, James Keeley, Devco & Keene, Bristol - Lower Bucks Chamber of Commerce, and James Sutton in one of his antique cars, and milk delivery trucks of Hillcrest Farms.

serious morals charges were dropped upon a request of the District Attorney Willard S. Curtin. Cespio was convicted of statutory rape by a jury but was in prison pending a motion for a new trial.

"I have no doubt that you would have been convicted again on the same charge, but since the prosecutor has left Bucks county and is not here with her daughter to testify there is nothing to do but have the charge not passed," said Judge Keller.

"You have been in jail for considerable time anyway and have paid in part for your offense," the Court said.

Lower Bucks Lions Club Observes Ladies' Night

BENSALEM TOWNSHIP, Nov. 3 —Ladies Night was observed Saturday evening by Lower Bucks Lions Club when 40 persons were served a roast beef dinner at Tally-Ho Inn. Richard F. Brackin presided. Cab Frye was chairman of an entertainment committee, for the evening.

Following the dinner, a treasure hunt was formed throughout Lower Bucks County to search for pigeon feathers, policemen's signatures, hair from a horse's tail, etc.

After the treasure hunt, the group returned to Tally-Ho Inn for final festivities and games, arranged by Mr. Frye. Stephen Midouhas, Bristol, was guest of the evening.

CLUB PLANS DINNER

FALLSINGTON, Nov. 3 — The Pennsbury Club held a meeting Tuesday with Miss Elizabeth Hassan presiding. Miss Eira McCabe read the minutes. Mrs. Louis Hecker asked that all reservations for the fall "Get-Together" dinner be made by Nov. 12th. Mrs. William Taylor reported that more garments were needed for Needlework Guild. Mrs. Gerald Roeser, Brownie leader, reported a new leader is needed as there are enough children for a new Brownie group. Plans are being made to purchase a flag for the Brownie troop. Refreshments were served to approximately 20 by hostesses, Mrs. Louis Hecker and Mrs. S. Duerr.

Blaze Damages Pine St. House of James Green

Bristol firemen Saturday answered nine calls, most of which was for grass fires. The blaze at the residence of James Green, 809 Pine street, did damage estimated at $4,000 by fire chief Clifford Hagerman.

Robert Harmon was burned by hot tar dripping from the roof and other firemen were forced to retreat by heavy smoke.

The fire, it is believed to have been due to dry leaves burning and igniting the house.

The ankle-length veil edged in wide Chantilly lace was the one worn by her mother on Mrs. Vandegrift's wedding day. This was attached to a shell type headpiece of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Slippers were of satin, and the cascade bouquet composed of white roses and gardenias.

The group of attendants for the bride was inclusive of: Matron of honor, Mrs. Ann Hollingsworth, Cornwells Heights, costumed in American beauty tone; bridesmaids—Miss Elizabeth A. Rossbauer, Torrereale Manor, in gold; Miss Virginia Leinauer, Eddington, in forest green; Mrs. Samuel Morrison, Jr., Eddington, in shrimp tone; Mrs. Russell Matthews, Jr., Andalusia, in peacock blue; junior bridesmaid, Sandra Vandegrift, Bristol Terrace II, cousin of the bride, wearing aqua; and flower girl, Cheryl Hughes, Cornwells Heights, in aqua also. The gowns of the six were strapless, the satin bodies having "cuffs" at the top and also where the bodies were joined to the skirts. Tiny buttons were arranged down the front of the bodies, which were pointed at the long waist-lines. Skirts were not over taffeta, being cut full and floor length. The young women wore net stolls. The matron of honor wore an open-crown picture hat of net trimmed in satin; the bridesmaids and junior bridesmaid had crowns of pleated net and satin, all excepting the junior bridesmaid wearing face veils. All wore silver slippers. The flower girl had a small net bonnet, satin trimmed, a large net bow tied under her chin. Each of the group carried a basket in natural color, these containing mixed fall blooms contrasting with the shades of their gowns.

Airman Rittenhouse was attended by Mr. Richard Fleming, Croydon, as best man. Serving in the capacity of ushers were Messrs. Samuel Morrison, Jr., Eddington; Walter Gramman, Hatboro; Stanley

Vandegrift, Bristol Terrace II, cousin of the bride; and Joseph Hogan, Phila., a cousin of the bridegroom. The ring bearer, Joseph Vandegrift, Bristol Terrace II, another cousin of the bride, wore a tuxedo, and the two wedding rings were carried on a white pillow.

Mrs. Vandegrift, the mother of the bride, was attired in a brown taffeta costume, beige accessories, and had a corsage of deep yellow roses. Mrs. Rittenhouse, the bridegroom's mother, selected an ice blue gown, navy blue accessories, and pink roses for a corsage.

Invitations were issued to 300 for the reception in the Rose-Mar Ballroom, Phila., starting at five o'clock.

A motor trip to Lake Placid, Lake George and Niagara Falls, N. Y., was arranged by the newlyweds, the bride travelling in a beige wool fannel suit, white nylon blouse, brown accessories, and white gloves. She wore an orchid. Mrs. Rittenhouse will continue to reside with her parents while her husband is in the service. She is a graduate, class of 1949, Bensalem township high school, and is employed by Hajo Corp., Phila. Her husband is an alumnus of Bristol high school (class of '46).

by former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Farmers National Bank; Louis C. Spring, president, and Jacob C. Schmidt, vice-president. The trio rode in a bright red convertible Buick, the color of which, despite its brightness, failed to top the brightness of countenances and joyfulness of pride, of those who by their expressions and exuberance said "today our community takes its place with other progressive areas in booming Lower Bucks County."

Crowds lined the streets as the parade passed. Hands waved in salute to those responsible for the new branch bank. Refreshments were dispensed at the rear of the building and it was a big day for all concerned.

Bristol Township police escorted the parade over the route. A car labeled "This affair sponsored by Bristol Township Civic Association," followed, and then bank officials in a car, a truck with James Harris waving to the crowds and advertising the ground-breaking ceremonies for Lower Bucks County Hospital; a float of banking equipment with John Catzlin garbed as a bank clerk wearing a frock coat, flowing black mustache, and sitting on a high stool making ledger entries with a quill pen. Catzlin is former assistant cashier of the Hanover Bank of Wilkes-Barre, and is now of the Farmers Bank staff.

The Croydon String Band, group of equestrians, Croydon Fire Company, Bucks County Rescue Squad, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, all had a place in line. There was an attractive float with students of the Coyne Dancing Studio in costumes. Omar Motors, Bracken Post Cadets trucks of Safe Food Markets L. & S. Hobby Shop, William A. Tryon, Philco, James Keeley, Devco & Keane, Bristol - Lower Bucks Chamber of Commerce, and James Sutton in one of his antique cars, and milk delivery trucks of Hillcrest Farms.

serious morals charges were dropped upon a request of the District Attorney Willard S. Curtin. Caspio was convicted of statutory rape by a jury but was in prison pending a motion for a new trial.

"I have no doubt that you would have been convicted again on the same charge, but since the prosecutrix has left Bucks county and is not here with her daughter to testify there is nothing to do but have the charge nol prossed," said Judge Keller.

"You have been in jail for considerable time anyway and have paid in part for your offense," the Court said.

Lower Bucks Lions Club Observes Ladies' Night

BENSALEM TOWNSHIP, Nov. 3 — Ladies' Night was observed Saturday evening by Lower Bucks Lions Club when 40 persons were served a roast beef dinner at Tally-Ho Inn. Richard F. Brackin presided. Cab Frye was chairman of an entertainment committee, for the evening.

Following the dinner, a treasure hunt was formed throughout lower Bucks County to search for pigeon feathers, policemen's signatures, hair from a horse's tail, etc.

After the treasure hunt, the group returned to Tally-Ho Inn for final festivities and games, arranged by Mr. Frye. Stephen Midouhas, Bristol, was guest of the evening.

CLUB PLANS DINNER

FALLSINGTON, Nov. 3 — The Pennsbury Club held a meeting Tuesday with Miss Elizabeth Hasen presiding. Miss Eria McCabe read the minutes. Mrs. Louis Hecker asked that all reservations for the fall "Get-Together" dinner be made by Nov. 12th. Mrs. William Taylor reported that more garments were needed for Needlework Guild. Mrs. Gerald Roesser, Brownie leader, reported a new leader is needed as there are enough children for a new Brownie group. Plans are being made to purchase a flag for the Brownie troop. Refreshments were served to approximately 20 by hostesses. Mrs. Louis Hecker and Mrs. S. Duerr.

of free enterprise that we have left in America. It's a lot more fun to write your gift for this hospital than it is to pay taxes. You get more of a kick out of it." Continuing, he had this to say: "I congratulate you people on the fact that you went ahead and raised the money. You didn't wait for the government to come in. You started on your own, then left the government to its share. . . . A project of this kind demonstrates the faith of your community, the faith of your people in the tomorrow." He reminded that "hard-headed business men would not put money in such projects as a steel plant unless they had faith in America." Dr. Kistler, after reminding that the hospital backer: "This is not the end of the world. It is the dawn of a new day. Look forward to living in it."

Congressman King, addressing the group, said:

"I am delighted to participate here today in these exercises because they mark the beginning of a structure which is to house a vital service to the community. This is the realization of hopes held by this community, and all citizens of the community are indebted to the group which first harbored the dream and then initiated the program for this hospital. Their public spirit and their interest in the welfare of this community will be long remembered by the many who will look to this as their hospital home. And all of the many people who contributed as much as a dollar to this undertaking should be proud of having helped.

"We who have known this community for many years as a quiet countryside and now see it changing rapidly into a busy industrial area, can realize that one of the major deficiencies is the lack of adequate hospital facilities. Even as a quiet rural community such facilities were distant and crowded. Now because of foresighted leadership we are to have in our midst this fine hospital. It is excellent that we are to have some aid from the Federal government in financing this building, and it is altogether proper that we should have Federal aid for this project because the sudden industrial expansion of this community is based largely upon the Federal defense program. I hope that we can get still more Federal aid than has already been allocated because it is apparent before we start this building that additions will have to be made to keep pace with community needs.

"We cannot depend on the Federal government alone for the Federal program at best is just partial aid, so the people of this community must face a continued need of a financial program in behalf of this hospital. I know this program will be well supported because there was good support in the initial campaign before there was any assurance of Federal funds, and I may say that the amount of money raised here in advance was an important factor in getting the generous allotment already received from Washington.

"To all of the people of Lower Bucks County I would like to say that here on this spot will be created an institution of service for the whole territory. A hospital is one of the most important services of any area and this one should serve as a tie in binding all of our separate sections together with a common community interest. This institution will serve as one of the first broad interests of the area, reminding us constantly that we are not just a bunch of separate townships and boroughs. That will be good for us all, because we can look forward to the day when this whole area of Lower Bucks County will be one big city.

"I congratulate all those individuals who have worked to make this dream come true, and I urge for the management of this hospital your future cooperation. I hope that as your Congressman I may be helpful."

Speaking on the part of labor was George Kane, regional director, United Auto Workers. Mr. Kane spoke of the industrial expansion of the area, and of the great need for a hospital such as the one proposed. He predicted there will be others in the future. He informed that: "Through the efforts of the men in the shops, we have about reached our quota without too much difficulty."

Rene J. Tritschler, Croydon, representing A. F. of L., read numerous telegrams of congratulations and best wishes from the different "Locals." He thanked the members of the United Labor Hospital Committee for the part they have taken in the work.

Chairman Hunter mentioned that he had received telegrams from a number of individuals expressing regret on inability to be present. Among the telegrams there were those from U. S. Senator James F. Duff; Benjamin Fairless, president of U. S. Steel Co.; and Dr. Otto Haas, of Rohm & Haas Co.

A student at Delhaas high school, Corella Goodman, led the group in singing "God Bless America."

The invocation was by the Rev.

E. Paul Baird, of St. Mark's R. C. Church; and the benediction by Rabbi Aaron Moskovits, of Bristol Jewish Center.

Mr. Harris, at the conclusion of the program, thanked all individuals and groups "who from the very beginning, when we had a little faith, kept faith with us. God has blessed our efforts."

The hostess group for the day was representatives of various communities in lower Bucks county. They welcomed the visitors and looked after their welfare.

EDDINGTON

ss Theresa L. Galzerano and Comido Take Marriage Vows

the presence of a large company of relatives and friends, with Rev. Peter Pinci officiating, Theresa L. Galzerano, 430 Hiffe street, and Mr. John Comido, Philadelphia, were wed at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was solemnized in Ann's R. C. Church.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Edith Monaca, Philadelphia, was escorted to the altar by her brother, Mr. Vincent D. Galzerano, Philadelphia. Two vocal soli was provided by the bride and her bridesmaids, being, "Ave Maria," and "The Lord's Prayer." Presiding at the organ was Mrs. Louis V. Freas, street.

The gown of ivory toned imported tulle lace was the choice of the bride. This was patterned with a Pan collar, keyhole neckline, and bodice, and floor-length skirt. It was cut full. Sleeves tapered to her hands. Her halo of the tulle lace had a rolled brim, this was sprinkled with seed pearls, from the rear brim of the headpiece a tulle veil fell to her shoulders. A white orchid centered bouquet of white roses. Slip-on shoes in ivory satin.

Best man, Mr. Salvatore Ambler, ushers, Messrs. S. Galzerano, Bristol, and M. Galzerano, Mayfair, brothers of the bride. Invitations were issued to 300 guests. The reception at the Galzerano home here.

The bride wore a mint green suit, black accessories, black beaded bag, and black tulle lamb coat, were the choice of the bride for her travelling ensemble. She also wore the orchid in her bridal bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Comido are spending a week in New York, N. Y. Their place of residence will be the bridegroom's home at 1620 W. Olney ave., Philadelphia. Attendance at the nuptial party, the mother of the bride, wore a dress of purple crepe, accessories, and a white rose corsage.

The former Miss Galzerano, who has been an employee of Mangan Soap Co., graduated from Ann's parochial school. Her husband, a veteran of army service, proprietor of a luncheonette in Philadelphia. To the best man he presented a lighter; while Mrs. Comido, her attendant a set of sapphires studded earrings and necklace.

Members of the bridal party: Best man, Mr. Salvatore Ambler; ushers, Messrs. S. Galzerano, Bristol, and M. Galzerano, Mayfair, brothers of the bride.

NEWS OF THE LEVITTOWN COMMUNITY

Rejoins Family After 3 Years in New Zealand

Heyes Family, Natives of England, Now Living in Levittown

By Staff Reporter
LEVITTOWN, Nov. 3. — The English town of St. Helens, near Liverpool is the previous home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Heyes, 79 Lakeside drive, West, and three of their children. Their eldest son, John James, 25, rejoined his family here after spending three years in New Zealand.

Mr. Heyes, his wife, Elizabeth, and Robert William, 17; Shirley Elizabeth, 14; and Graham, 11; arrived in America in July, aboard the liner S. S. Mauretania and met John James a few days later. Until they came to Levittown Sept. 6, they stayed in Langhorne at the home of Mr. Heyes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shenton, who are also natives of England.

Mr. Heyes and John James are carpenters for sub-contractors building Levittown. The father installs door jambs for Ralph Widler, and the son, employed by Frank Mandell, makes house repairs.

The Levittown house, with its kitchen appliances, is one of the features of America that makes the Heyes' content here. They appreciate the circulating heating system, in contrast to English homes where there is a fireplace in each room, burning wood and coal. The English cannot heat all their rooms, Mrs. Heyes says, because there is a shortage of fuel.

Coal is sparsely rationed over there, she says, and so is food. In England her family was allotted only 1½ pounds of sugar a week, and about 12 strips of bacon. Clothing is expensive to an Englishman, in relation to his wages, Mrs. Heyes says. A worker who earns five pounds sterling per week might be obliged to spend two pounds for a shirt.

Such household luxuries as an electric refrigerator, called a "fridge" over there, are extremely expensive to an English wage-earner.

The Heyes' lived in a brick house in St. Helens, Mr. Heyes painted the bricks and mortar on their chimney here, as is done in many English homes.

This is the second time the Heyes' have come to the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Heyes were in this country from 1926 to 1933 and John James was born in Minneola, Long Island. They returned to England to join Mrs. Heyes' father, who was ill, and stayed in their native land until this year.

St. Helens was their first home, but on returning to England in 1933 they went to live for 12 years in Chester, where Mr. Heyes operated a service station and garage. They returned to St. Helens seven years ago and ran an antique shop.

Shirley and Graham, who attend Falls twp. schools, are each a year younger than their classmates. Shirley is in 10th grade at Pennsbury High School and Graham is in sixth grade at Fallsington Elementary School.

In England Shirley passed a special examination to study in Cowley Girls Grammar School. She finds that Pennsbury pupils have more freedom in school than English students.

John James served in the English Army three years during the second World War and then entered banking. He worked three years in a New Zealand bank.

Mr. Farley, a native of Trenton, attended Trenton High School and played football there. He taught swimming, before entering service, in a boys' camp, and still enjoys water sports.

Mrs. Farley used to make shell jewelry as a hobby, but has given it up, for the time being, to take care of the two Farley children. Michael is 2½; Patrick is six weeks old. He was born in Mercer Hospital a few days before the family came to Levittown.

Mr. Farley, a salesman for Taylor Provision Co., serves New Jersey and parts of Pennsylvania.

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 3. — Jack Seidner, of 55 Lavender lane, installed storm windows on the houses at Levittown, L. I., and is now covering the windows here. He is now installation man for the Levittown Window Mart, of Morrisville.

The Seidners lived in Long Island, New York City, three years before moving here Sept. 20. Brooklyn is their original home.

Two of the Seidner children attend Tullytown school. Janet, seven, is in second grade and Carolyn, six, in first grade. Two year old Kenneth completes the family.

When Carolyn Seidner recently celebrated her birthday here, friends presented her family with Sparky, a part-collie pup, two months old.

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 3. — When Frank D. Jacob, of 63 Lavender lane, and his wife, Marge and children lived in the other Levittown, he was an active member of the East Meadow, Long Island, Fire Co. Mr. Jacob was a lieutenant in the company, which covered the section of Levittown, L. I., in which he made his home. His wife was a member of the fire company Auxiliary.

Since June, Mr. Jacob has been a tile layer for Levitt & Sons, Inc., N. J., where he and his wife lived before moving here Sept. 13. She was born in Columbus, Ohio, and enlisted in the Coast Guard Spars after receiving nurse's training in that city. After basic training at Manhattan Beach, L. I., she was assigned to the Cleveland hospital.

When the couple were discharged from service, Mr. Farley was a boss' mate 1/c and his wife, a pharmacist mate 1/c. Mr. Farley was hospitalized for 2½ years.

Acts 4:4 — "But many of those who heard the Word believed; and the number of the men came to about 5,000."

O God, Who dost put into the hearts of men longings that they can neither understand nor satisfy without Thine aid: Make us to have a strong desire to know Thee as Thou art, in all Thy goodness, purity, and truth; and grant, we beseech Thee, that we may find that desire fulfilled in Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

PAY MORE? WHAT FOR?

Before this year, if you wanted a big-car ride... a high-compression engine... a complete choice of interior-exterior appointments... or a curved one-piece windshield and a car-wide rear window, you had to pay hundreds of dollars more. Now FORD offers all these features at no extra cost. It's the one fine car in the low-price field. Take 10 minutes and "Test Drive" a Ford. You'll agree... you can pay more but you can't buy better.

Two-tone colors illustrated and white sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

ss Theresa L. Galzerano and Comido Take Marriage Vows

The presence of a large company of relatives and friends, with Rev. Peter Pincel officiating, Theresa L. Galzerano, 439 Hiffe street, and Mr. John Comido, Philadelphia, were wed at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was solemnized in St. R. C. Church.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. L. Galzerano, and the late Mr. Galzerano, was escorted to the altar by her brother, Mr. Vincent D. Galzerano, Philadelphia. The ceremony was provided by Edith Monaca, Philadelphia, being, "Ave Maria", and "The Lord's Prayer". Presiding at the organ was Mrs. Louis V. Freas, Trenton.

A gown of ivory toned imported lace was the choice of the bride. This was patterned with a Pan collar, keyhole neckline, bodice, and floor-length skirt. It was cut full. Sleeves tapered to her hands. Her hair of the lace had a rolled brim, this was sprinkled with seed pearls. A tulle veil fell to her shoulders. A white orchid centered bouquet of white roses, Slipper, was in ivory satin.

Mr. Fred Folino, Tacony, served as patron of honor and the only attendant for her sister, Mrs. Folino, attended in a gown of imported lace in copper tone, the line being sweet-heart style, outlined with formal applique, and long and pointed, and the cut full. Her hair was in a trim was also in copper as were her satin slippers. A pattern of honor carried a luncheon in burnt orange.

Members of the bridal party: Best man, Mr. Salvatore, of Ambler; ushers, Messrs. Galzerano, Bristol, and Galzerano, Mayfair, brother of the bride.

Vitations were issued to 300 for the reception at the Galzerano home here. The bride wore a mint green suit, black accessories, black beaded bag, and black fur lamb coat, were the choice of the bride for her travelling ensemble. She also wore the orchid for her bridal bouquet. Mr. and Comido are spending a week in New York, N. Y. Their place of residence will be the bridegroom's at 1620 W. Olney ave., Philadelphia. The mother of the bride, a dress of purple crepe, accessories, and a white rose corsage.

The former Miss Galzerano, who has been an employee of Man-Ann Soap Co., graduated from Ann's parochial school. Her father, a veteran of army service, is proprietor of a luncheonette in Trenton. To the best man he presented a lighter; while Mrs. Comido, her attendant a set of sapphires and studded earrings and neck-

Heyes Family, Natives of England, Now Living in Levittown

By Staff Reporter
LEVITTOWN, Nov. 3. — The English town of St. Helens, near Liverpool is the previous home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Heyes, 79 Lakeside drive, West, and three of their children. Their eldest son, John James, 25, rejoined his family here after spending three years in New Zealand.

Mr. Heyes, his wife, Elizabeth, and Robert William, 17; Shirley Elizabeth, 14; and Graham, 11; arrived in America in July, aboard the liner S. S. Mauretania and met John James a few days later. Until they came to Levittown Sept. 6, they stayed in Langhorne at the home of Mr. Heyes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shenton, who are also natives of England.

Mr. Heyes and John James are carpenters for sub-contractors building Levittown. The father installs door jams for Ralph Wilder, and the son, employed by Frank Mandell, makes house repairs.

The Levittown house, with its kitchen appliances, is one of the features of America that makes the Heyes' content here. They appreciate the circulating heating system, in contrast to English homes where there is a fireplace in each room, burning wood and coal. The English cannot heat all their rooms, Mrs. Heyes says, because there is a shortage of fuel.

Coal is sparsely rationed over there, she says, and so is food. In England her family was allotted only 1½ pounds of sugar a week and about 12 strips of bacon. Clothing is expensive to an Englishman, in relation to his wages, Mrs. Heyes says. A worker who earns five pounds sterling per week might be obliged to spend two pounds for a shirt.

Such household luxuries as an electric refrigerator, called a "fridge" over there, are extremely expensive to an English wage-earner.

The Heyes' lived in a brick house in St. Helens, Mr. Heyes painted the bricks and mortar on their chimney here, as is done in many English homes.

This is the second time the Heyes' have come to the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Heyes were in this country from 1926 to 1933 and John James was born in Minneola, Long Island. They returned to England to join Mrs. Heyes' father, who was ill, and stayed in their native land until this year.

St. Helens was their first home, but on returning to England in 1933 they went to live for 12 years in Chester, where Mr. Heyes operated a service station and garage. They returned to St. Helens seven years ago and ran an antique shop.

Shirley and Graham, who attend Falls twp. schools, are each a year younger than their classmates. Shirley is in 10th grade at Pennsbury High School and Graham in sixth grade at Fallsington Elementary School.

In England Shirley passed a special examination to study in Cowley Girls Grammar School. She finds that Pennsbury pupils have more freedom in school than English students.

John James served in the English Army three years during the second World War and then entered banking. He worked three years in a New Zealand bank.

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 3. — L. James Farley and his wife, Mary Anne, of 62 Lavender lane, are both former first class petty officers in the U. S. Coast Guard. They met at the Marine Hospital, Cleveland, where he received treatment for injuries received in combat in the South Pacific, and she was a pharmacist mate on the staff, Mr. Farley was hospitalized for 2½ years.

Mr. Farley is a native of Trenton, N. J., where he and his wife lived before moving here Sept. 13. She was born in Columbus, Ohio, and enlisted in the Coast Guard Spars after receiving nurse's training at Manhattan Beach, L. I., she was assigned to the Cleveland hospital.

When the couple were discharged from service, Mr. Farley was a boat mate 1/c and his wife, a pharmacist mate 1/c. Mr. Farley attended Trenton High School and played football there. He taught swimming, before entering service, in a boys' camp, and still enjoys water sports.

Mrs. Farley used to make shell jewelry as a hobby, but has given it up, for the time being, to take care of the two Farley children. Michael is 2½; Patrick is six weeks old. He was born in Mercer Hospital a few days before the family came to Levittown.

Mr. Farley, a salesman for Taylor Provision Co., serves New Jersey and parts of Pennsylvania.

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 3. — When Frank D. Jacob, of 63 Lavender lane, and his wife, Marge and children lived in the other Levittown, he was an active member of the East Meadow, Long Island, Fire Co. Mr. Jacob was a lieutenant in the company, which covered the section of Levittown, L. I., in which he made his home. His wife was a member of the fire company Auxiliary.

Since June, Mr. Jacob has been a tile layer for Levitt & Sons, Inc., in the home construction here. He moved his family from Long Island to an apartment in Fountainville, where they lived until Sept. 16, when their new home was ready. He was formerly a salesman for the General Baking Co., in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Jacob was born in Brooklyn. Her husband comes from Astoria, Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob were married before he entered the Army, during World War II. While he was in the service she went with him to Texas and Wyoming, where he was stationed. She used to be a secretary for the Home Title Guarantee Co., in Brooklyn and Jamaica.

The Jacobs have two small children, Patricia, three and Dennis, 1½ years old.

Dancing and ice skating are the parents' favorite pastimes.

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 3. — When Frank D. Jacob, of 63 Lavender lane, and his wife, Marge and children lived in the other Levittown, he was an active member of the East Meadow, Long Island, Fire Co. Mr. Jacob was a lieutenant in the company, which covered the section of Levittown, L. I., in which he made his home. His wife was a member of the fire company Auxiliary.

Since June, Mr. Jacob has been a tile layer for Levitt & Sons, Inc., in the home construction here. He moved his family from Long Island to an apartment in Fountainville, where they lived until Sept. 16, when their new home was ready. He was formerly a salesman for the General Baking Co., in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Jacob was born in Brooklyn. Her husband comes from Astoria, Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob were married before he entered the Army, during World War II. While he was in the service she went with him to Texas and Wyoming, where he was stationed. She used to be a secretary for the Home Title Guarantee Co., in Brooklyn and Jamaica.

The Jacobs have two small children, Patricia, three and Dennis, 1½ years old.

Dancing and ice skating are the parents' favorite pastimes.

LEVITTOWN, Nov. 3. — Jack Seidner, of 55 Lavender lane, installed storm windows on the houses at Levittown, L. I., and is now covering the windows here. He is now installation man for the Levittown Window Mart, of Morrisville.

The Seidners lived in Long Island, New York City, three years before moving here Sept. 20, Brooklyn is their original home.

Two of the Seidner children attend Tullytown school, Janet, seven, is in second grade and Carolyn, six, in first grade. Two year old Kenneth completes the family.

When Carolyn Seidner recently celebrated her birthday here, friends presented her family with Sparky, a part-collie pup, two months old.

PAY MORE? WHAT FOR?

Before this year, if you wanted a big-car ride... a high-compression engine... a complete choice of interior-exterior appointments... or a curved one-piece windshield and a car-wide rear window, you had to pay hundreds of dollars more. Now FORD offers all these features at no extra cost. It's the one fine car in the low-price field. Take 10 minutes and "Test Drive" a Ford. You'll agree... you can pay more but you can't buy better.

FORD

Two-tone colors illustrated and white sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

They died...that we might vote

Just across the river, at Valley Forge, hundreds of Continental soldiers are buried in unmarked graves. They died there during the terrible winter of 1777 ...of exposure, of disease, of starvation. They died in the defense of liberty ... that their children, and their children's children, might enjoy the rights and privileges of self-government for all time to come.

We are their heirs. To us has passed the precious legacy of freedom. Because of their sacrifice, we are citizens of a free country. Because they died, we have the right to vote.

In many parts of the world today, that privilege is still unknown. A majority of the world's people live as a slave lives, in constant fear and subjection to a dictator's will. Here in America we are favored as few nations are favored. Each of us is free to help shape and mould the government by which he lives.

To share in the processes of government, to make known our personal beliefs and wishes...that is not only a privilege but a duty. Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom. In this election...in every election...let us all fulfill this vital responsibility. Let us go to the polls and vote.
